SHAQUILL MADISON

Today, we gather to honor a devoted father, a loyal friend, and a true Man of God—a man whose heart beat with purpose, whose hands worked with grace, and whose soul rested firmly in faith.

Shaquill Madison was born on April 19, 1992, in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, to parents Beverly Dixon and Derrick Madison.

He was an amazing father, not only to his own children but to countless others who found in him guidance, protection, and care. He led not with words alone but by example. His faith was unshaken, his love unconditional, and his strength drawn daily from God, whom he served so faithfully.

He was a worker, a builder, a dreamer—a man of many talents and tireless hands. From lawns to boats, from speakers to cars, he could fix it, build it, or make it better.

A true jack of all trades—and master of some—his laughter could fill a room, and his presence could turn ordinary moments into cherished memories.

He lived fully, freely, and faithfully. Drama had no place where his peace resided. Joy followed him, and laughter was his language. On the field or court—whether kickball, football, volleyball, or basketball—he played with heart, and those beside him were never just teammates—they were family.

He was a protector and a mentor, a provider and a confidant. You could trust him with your secrets, lean on him for wisdom, and find comfort in his booming voice or quiet counsel. He brought light to every space he entered, not by trying, but simply by being.

He taught us to live each day to the fullest, to love deeply, laugh loudly, and serve God wholeheartedly. His legacy is not written in stone but in the hearts he lifted, the hands he helped, and the lives he changed.

Though he has entered eternal rest, his spirit is far from gone. It lingers in the laughter of his children, the stories of his friends, and the peace he left behind.

He lived well. He loved deeply. And now, he rests completely, surrounded by the same love and peace that guided him all his life.
